STEPS

Sessions To Evaluate ProgresS in the management of urological cancers

Meet-the-Expert Session
13th February 2021, Gothenburg, Sweden
At the 18th Meeting of the EAU Section of Oncological Urology (ESOU)

Creating a network of European clinicians focused on continuing research and improving management of patients with urological cancers

What is STEPS?

Supported by Ipsen, STEPS offers younger clinicians an opportunity for direct interaction with high-level experts. 20 clinicians will engage in roundtable case discussions led by experts in prostate, bladder, renal and testis cancer.

Who should apply to STEPS?

- Recently specialised clinicians with a firm interest in the diagnosis and management of urological cancers
- With the demonstrated support from their Head of Department (by letter)
- Who are keen to participate in ESOU and EAU programmes
- And who understand and speak English fluently

How to take part in STEPS?

Further information and application forms are available through European Academic Centres or by emailing matthew.hebdon@atriumhealth.co.uk

All applications must be accompanied by a current CV, an up to date publication list and a letter from your Head of Department endorsing your application.

Timeline

2nd October 2020: Application deadline
30th October 2020: Announcement of successful applicants and circulation of cases for review
